

Wines down South

2009-2010

The Civil War Sesquicentennial Ramps-Up in 2010

The remembrance celebrations of the 150 anniversary of the Civil War will be evident through out the South and beyond. State and federal planning commissions are well along with their plans joined by a myriad of local organizations and Civil War reenactors.

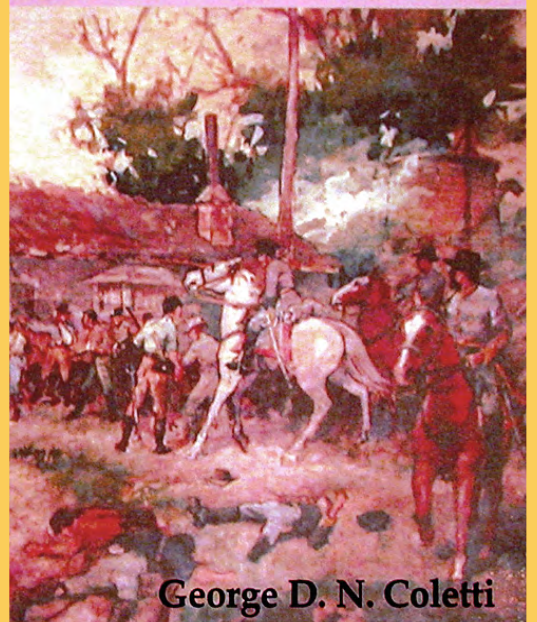

Wines Down South will actively report on many of these events and the tourism opportunities available for both businesses and travelers. Return to this document for celebration and event listings, plus a revue of food, wine, lodging and attractions in the area surrounding many Civil War battlefields and monuments.

Please take the opportunity to visit this section regularly to discover the new additions. In addition to the events and tourism opportunities we will highlight interesting stories, articles and books dealing with this historical period in American History.

“The Battle Above the Clouds” Lookout Mountain - Chattanooga, TN

STONE MOUNTAIN: THE GRANITE SENTINEL

George D. N. Coletti

Wines down South

2009-2010

The adjacent table contains links to web sites and PDF articles regarding Civil War events and celebrations.

Wines Down South will update the list regularly as our research identifies interesting information regarding the sesquicentennial.

Our readers will benefit from the diversity of the information and the collateral travel planning it provides for both domestic and foreign visitors.

Events and Civil War Sites of Interest

Bentonville, NC Battlefield Reenactment
www.bentonvillebattlefield.com/index.html

Civil War Traveler
www.civilwartraveler.com/audio/index.html

<http://www.civilwartraveler.com/EAST/NC/CarolinasCampaign.html>

North Carolina Civil War Sesquicentennial
<http://www.nccivilwar150.com>

Tennessee Civil War Vacation Trails
<http://tnvacation.com/civil-war/>

Virginia Civil War Commission
www.virginiacivilwar.org/commission.php

Original Appomattox Court House